KING VICTOR BACK IN ROME.

Spent Nearly Eight Months with His Troops at Front.

Rome, Jan. 13.—After spending nearly eight months at the front with his troops, King Victor Emmanuel returned to Rome yesterday. His arrival was entirely unexpected and therefore was accompanied by no demonstration. Whether the king intends to return to General Cadorna's headquarters is not known. During the king's long absence the Duke of Genoa, his uncle, has been acting for him in Rome. The duke's wife is a German princess. She did not accompany him to Rome.

Just Like a Man.

Hub—Well! It takes two to make a quarrel, so I'll shut up.
Wife—That's just like a contemptible man. You'll sit there and think mean things.—Philadelphia Courier.

Ups and Downs.

"I hope your constituents appreciate the value of your patriotic services," said the prominent citizen.
"I don't know that I care to make it a question of actual value," replied Senator Sorgham. "The market for patriotic services is terribly fluctuating."—Washington Star.

ARRESTED ON FAREWELL VISIT.

British Recruit Came Back to Vermont and Was Nabbed.

Middlebury, Jan. 13.—John Donah, who had enlisted as a Canadian recruit for the British army, and who came home to say good-bye to his father, was arrested at his home in Shoreham yesterday, charged with the larceny of a Belgium mare valued at $250 and a four-year-old colt valued at $150 from Patrick Ryan last July 1. In addition county court he pleaded guilty, but sentence was not passed. Other charges are said to be hanging over him, but whether they will be brought up at the present term of county court is doubtful.

The arrest of Donah came after a long wait. It was learned that he was at his father's home. Four deputy sheriffs, Noble J. Sanford and Edward Higgins of Middlebury, George S. Farr of Bristol and Harry E. Sanford of Cornwall, were sent after him. They located the young man at the house, but he ran out and was only halted after Deputy Sheriff Sanford discharged his revolver, when he surrendered. He was dressed in the uniform of a recruit.

Manchester, N. H., and Barre are to figure in an interstate bowling match at the Merlo academy on North Main street Saturday evening, when the New Hampshire team, en route to the national bowling tournament in Washington, D. C., expects to stop off in Barre long enough to subdue a strong local team that has been picked. Manchester will be represented by Harold Nute, a former Barre boy, who is the present New Hampshire champion; Whitehead, the former champion, from whom Nute recently wrested state honors; Davidson, Lowell and Peterson. An all-star team has been picked from the local laces as follows: Bernard Corcoran, William Johnston, Romeo Marriotti, C. Catto and Paul Scampini. The big match is to begin promptly at 7 o'clock and afterward Atto Mariani and C. Colombo will roll strings with Davidson and Peterson. Another interesting feature of the aftermath doubles will be a match between Nute and Whitehead and Marriotti and Corcoran.

A sleety rain, the advent of which was seemingly ignored by the forecasters bent upon bringing snow, set in this morning and by mid-forenoon the sidewalks were so slippery that pedestrianism was fraught with many hazards. The street department sought to alleviate conditions by copious applications of sand on the walks, but many pedestrians took to the roadway as a measure of safety.

Barre council, No. 401, Knights of Columbus, has completed plans for the lecture to be given in city hall Feb. 4 by David Goldstein of Worcester, Mass., who is to speak on "Peace and War." Mr. Goldstein is to fill several dates in Vermont, going from Barre to Montpelier and thence to St. Albans. No admission is to be charged to the Barre meeting and a general invitation is extended to all who are interested in the subject announced.

Among the visitors in the city yesterday and to-day were the following people: Miss A. F. Clarke of Randolph, Thomas Kain and John Kain of Helena, Mont., Thomas H. Carlisle of Plattsburg, N. Y., L. N. Scollier of Worcester, H. M. Young of White River Junction, George F. Parker of Rutland, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Beavens of Springfield, Mass., Miss Grace Thompson of Woodbury, Vt., R. Beckwith of Claremont, N. H., J. W. Parker of Burlington, C. R. Best of White River Junction, H. A. King of Montreal, P. Q., Miss Jessica Worthley of Bayonne, N. J., Dean Emerson of Essex Junction, James MacCreedy of Philadelphia and C. M. Richards of Northfield.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Meet me at the anniversary sale at Fitts'.

Miss Bertha Gilmore returned this morning to her home in Waterbury, after passing a few days with friends in the city.

Members of Merlo's academy have completed plans for their second annual sleigh ride, which is to take place to-morrow evening. Those who contemplate participating in the outing are requested to meet at the corner of Summer and Seminary streets at 6:30 o'clock. The barges will take the party to Williamstown, where a supper in the grange hall is to be followed by dancing.

The members of the Epworth league of the Hedding M. E. church held their annual sleigh ride last evening, nearly 30 people filling a four-horse large from the Jones & Nye stable which took the party to Williamstown. On arriving at Williamstown the party were entertained at the Methodist church with games and music. A splendid oyster supper was given by the ladies of the church and much appreciated by the guests. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Carpenter.

Two physicians were called as the result of a family feud in the "house between the tracks" on Granite street last night and the police have been asked to investigate the affair. A family named Duthie is said to have figured prominently in the trouble-making and an elderly man, whose conduct in the past has caused the authorities no little trouble is being considered as a candidate for removal from the premises. He is a city charge and the aldermanic charity committee has received the suggestion that as he transferred to the city farm. A kerosene lamp in rapid transit through the air resulted in a hurly call for the doctors and when they arrived an elderly woman was found to be suffering with a jagged glass wound on the face. All members of the household, it is said, are more or less dependent on the city for sustenance.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Page of Plainfield were business visitors in the city to-day.

Spaulding is to play Stowe high school in the new gymnasium to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. H. J. LaRoe of Wellington street left this morning for Burlington on a few days' visit.

Mrs. Karl Woodcock and Mrs. Alson Smith of Plainfield were the guests of relatives in the city yesterday.

Miss Alice Batchelder of Plainfield and Miss Nora Batchelder of Randolph visited friends in the city yesterday.

The committee of the A. O. H. attended the L. A. A. O. H. meeting to make plans for a joint installation to be held in K. of C. hall Jan. 26. It was decided to have an entertainment, banquet and dance for members together with husband and wives.

Basketball candidates at Goddard seminary met recently and organized for the season by electing Hubbard London of Boston as captain. The manager, elected early in the fall, has practically completed a schedule for the season. The team is not disheartened by its defeat by the Dartmouth freshmen in the gymnasium at Hanover last week and daily practice meets are correcting some of the faults revealed in the first encounter of the year.

George Shepard of Brighton, Mass., has been elected manager of the hockey team at Goddard seminary and if cold weather prevails long enough to permit the candidates to round into form, some excellent sport is in store for supporters of the game on the hill. Beret of some of the faster players who made hockey history at the seminary in 1914 and 1915, Goddard will make an effort to give a good account of itself whenever the team is matched for games outside. A match between the schoolboys and local amateurs who are practicing on the Pearl street rink is in prospect, but no definite arrangements for out-of-town games have been made, although teams are being organized at Norwich university and the University of Vermont.
